

BUILDING CONSISTENCY FOR OPEN SCIENCE IN EUROPE: RHETORIC AND PRACTICE

CHAIRPERSONS BRIEFING NOTES

ROLE OF THE CHAIRPERSON

Welcomes everyone at the start of the session and kicks off the session

Invites subsequent speakers/programme elements (as explained in the programme below).

Please go through the short biography of your speakers and decide how to introduce them. Each such introduction shouldn't be longer than 30 seconds

Posing questions to speakers contributed by the audience via Engagement Hub:

We will copy the questions to the Google document named Questions asked in Engagement Hub (Building Consistency for Open Science in Europe: Rhetoric and Practice), and highlight the most interesting questions for you.

PLEASE SAVE THE THIS LINK AND OPEN IT WHEN YOU CHAIR.

<https://docs.google.com/document/d/14jfq7JdbBrHqF1sF1w99sbe2dC2x4lQ0M0zrPvYstB8/edit?usp=sharing>

We also encourage you to check the Engagement Hub if you can.

Please remember there is a 20s delay between what's in the studio and what the audience can see in the broadcast, so might be good for you to have 1-2 questions ready for the speakers.

Moderating the conversations

Time keeping

The Director of Studio will make the chair visible a minute before the end of each presentation (as planned). We recommend you to announce "1 Minute" upon your entry, so that the speaker understands to limit her/his presentation to 1 remaining minute.

Thanking everyone for their participation and closing the event.
